

CUSTOM HIGH PERFORMANCE COACHING AGREEMENT

GOAL:

To reach and maintain heightened levels of clarity, energy, courage, productivity, influence, and necessity, in unique and proprietary methods, as I pursue my goals and full potential.

PROGRAM AGREEMENTS:

By enrolling in this program, The Client agrees to the following:

- I am committed to improving my life and will participate fully in all individual sessions, masterminds, and any other meeting I attend.
- I am registering for a previously discussed term, normally at least 6 months, or other customized length of time, as outlined in detailed conversations and emails.
- I will meet with my coach, trainer, mastermind group, or otherwise attend meetings as agreed upon, at the scheduled times. I understand that if I have to miss a session, and don't provide at least 48 hours notice, it will be a missed session and not expect a makeup or rescheduled session.
- I understand this program is about improving my present life and reaching new levels of performance. I understand this level of personal development is not therapy, not about rehashing my past over and over, and not about professional, legal, medical, psychological, or financial advice. I understand the training and content is focused on what I can do now, and in the future to experience more energy, success, and fulfillment in life.
- I understand, and agree, that my results in my life are up to me and that by law no one can guarantee my results in life or business, only my satisfaction. So, Clay Green, Enthusiasticlay, or other other business or individual can not be held liable under any circumstances for my results or actions. I understand Clay Green does, however, guarantee my satisfaction with the first session and that if I am not satisfied with session one, I can ask for a refund. I also understand I can stop the coaching sessions at any point I wish and I will no longer be billed for future sessions, but that I cannot be reimbursed for previous sessions after the start of our second session.
- I understand that at the end our our agreed upon working period, I may have the option of continuing my momentum and mastery. I can schedule to continue, or alter the coaching program at that time.
